Cruise-N-Art Craft Fair

Carol & Orrin "Bud" Clover #4763

Carol and I hope all of you Minnesota Street Rod Association members had a good holiday season and received everything you wanted from "Santa Claus". We almost got everything we wanted but our house is up for sale and it didn't get sold. We even had a gentleman come and say he loved the house but he didn't want anything to do with our 40 x 100 pole barn. Oh, well!

It's time to start sending out the applications for the 2010 Cruise-N-Art Craft fair to be held at the Back to the 50's. We are hoping we can get a lot of vendors for the show, especially seeing as this will be our last year for volunteering at the craft show. We kind of feel like we have worn out our welcome. We had a few complaints at the end of last year's show that we have been doing everything wrong in putting on the show. We have had some complaints because we are allowing what is called "buy-and-sell" vendors into the show. That means there are vendors that buy decorating items out of a magazine and resell them at the show. I know that this show has been called a "craft fair" for many years, which means that it should be full of crafters. I have to say that true crafters are very hard to recruit.

We have seen it as the years have gone by. We were crafters for over 30 years and as time went on, at the shows we attended, we saw less and less of the true crafters entering the shows. We did not like it very much when we saw more and more buy and sell vendors at the craft shows.

Now that we have been coordinating the Cruise-N-Art Craft Fair for 20 years, we have seen why this is happening. A show as large as the Cruise-N-Art show is very hard to fill with crafters exclusively, so had to let in whatever vendors we could get to apply for the show. If we would have used all of the applications for jewelry we receive, we would have 3/4 of the show in jewelry.

We hope that the spectators now realize why we have to run the show the way we do. It would not be a very large show if we only used crafters as we would only use about 1/2 of the main building.

We have not heard of anyone who has come forward and is willing to take over the show. I hope someone will come forward by Sunday of the 2010 show so that we can turn over everything we have to put on the show with. Here's hoping someone will come forward. Belated happy holidays to everyone.

Falcon Club of America

Our Northland Chapter of the Falcon Club of America is going to travel as a group and “migrate” to help celebrate the Ford Falcon's 50th Anniversary in July 15 - 17 in Dearborn Michigan.

I would like to invite Falcon people and owners to join us in this fun adventure. We plan on traveling the northern route through the Michigan UP with two overnight stops. The second stop will be in Frankenmuth Michigan a very beautiful German themed town. The Chamber of Commerce plans on “rolling out the red carpet” to welcome our group.

Any questions regarding this adventure can be directed to me either by e-mail rhmarquardt@yahoo.com or by phone 651-459-7940. Information about the 50th Anniversary is posted on the Falcon Club of America's website which is <http://www.falconclub.com> or our Northland Chapter website which is <http://www.northland-falcons.com/>.
